

Cherie Illingworth received her Physical Therapy degree from the University of Saskatchewan in April of 1991. She worked at Wascana Rehabilitation Centre before returning to her hometown to work at Battlefords Union Hospital. While Cherie has a special interest in geriatrics and neurology, she also did general outpatients, inpatients, long term care, pediatrics, vestibular, amputations and stroke rehab. After working as a supervisor in Therapies for 17 years she decided to return to the position of staff physiotherapist in order to have more time with patients.

Cherie and her husband Todd raised three children and are grateful to have them living close to home. They have a new joy in their life with the recent arrival of their first grandchild!

After nine months of retirement Cherie needed a new challenge and started working at a private physiotherapy clinic in North Battleford. She is happily settled into the semi-retired life.
